Crime Prevention Unit to Be Created By Borough as Deterrent to Burglars

A Crime Prevention Unit which will ofter home owners and businessmen tree advice on how they can improve their security has been established by the Borough police department

"We've recognized the need for such a unit for several years," said Chief Michael Carnevale, in describing the new program Working out of the department's Detective Bureau, it is scheduled to begin operating next Wednesday, October 18, and will be headed by Sgt. Thomas Michaud, assisted by Det. Gerald Patterson

Chief Carnevale suggests that any Borough resident or business firm interested in having a crime prevention officer visit them, call Borough Headquarters (924-4141) and ask for Capt Theodore Lewis, who heads the Defective Bureau, Capt, Lewis will then arrange a schedule for the two CPU officers

Both Sgt Michaud and Det Patterson have recently completed courses in security at Union College "They have the training, expertise and skillto assess accurately the crime vulnerability of a residence and to recommend cost-effective security measures," Chief Carnevale said. "We want to get into the crime prevention aspect-getting there before the burglar does-and make simple recommendations that might deter a burglar "

"There's no such thing as 'burglar proof," Capt Lewis joined in, "but there are always ways of making security better." Both men pointed out there are steps homeowners can take that do not require great expense which will cut down the chances of their being the victim of thieves

A $150,000 house may have locks that could easily be slipped "Many homeowners aren't aware of this possibility until they are ripped off," Capt Lewis observed

To back up his concern about the need for greater security, Chief Carnevale submitted figures which reveal that while breaking and enterings with larceny fell from 252 in 1975 for residential as well as commercial buildings to 141 in 1977, they are increasing for 1978, which already has 123 B & Es through August Larcenies fell from 454 to 327 during the same period but now appear on the rise. too, with 204 this year through August

As a matter of course, detectives will follow up each actual break-in and make recommendations, Chief Carnevale said

Inflation Erodes Funds for Remodeling High School Because Approval by State Was Slow in Coming

While the state took its own board member Hannah Fox who, leisurely time approving Princeton High School remodeling plans, "inflation did its dirty work," remarked school board member Winthrop Pike this week.

The result some things will have to be dropped. In fact, only eight, possibly nine, of 40 alternatives planned by the architects, can be carried out, so far as present plans go. The other 32 have been lined up, in order of importance, "just in case

Last week, the school board awarded the general contract to Rule Construction—a Pennsylvania firm-for $2,200,000, the steel contract, $74,890, to the Martin Division of Steel Products, Inc., and the plumbing contract at $174,679 to Cantello Plumbing

This Wednesday at 8 pm., the board is scheduled to consider contracts for heating, ventilating and air-conditioning, electrical work and masonry. The meeting will be held in Valley Road

When architects in the J. Robert Hillier firm drew up the contract, they put some $900,000 worth of projects into an "alternate" section. This meant the board could select projects it regarded as essential if there wasn't enough money to go around If there had been no "alternatives" and the bid had come in too high, bidding would have had to start all over again, with a consequent loss of time and even more "dirty work" by inflation.

An advisory committee representing citizens, administration, teachers, PTO, school board, business and maintenance departments, arrived at the eight alternatives. The board has approved them. They are: 500 more basic hall lockers; new clock and timing system; auditorium seating, science department furniture, new stair treads; art room furniture, home ec equipment and electronic lab and mechanical drawing equipment.

If all goes well, a ninth alternative may win a place on the list extension of the stage front

"We felt a strong committment to the high school's program," says with Dietrich Meyerhofer, is a board representative on the Advisory Committee, "although we realized the need for things like the stair treads, which are necessary for

Other members of the Committee are Al Seitz and Kay Yoder, (high school administration and teaching staff); Rita Ludlum and Jane Evans (PTO), Charles Cornforth and Nancy Myers (citizens); William Karch, head of facilities for the schools; Ronald Novak, business head, and Superintendent Paul Houston.

These are some of the things that will probably have to be left out: team lockers, business area alterations, music practice room alterations; tile on gym walls (concrete, instead), and an office partition in the drivers-ed area.

"The things we can't have aren't earth-shaking," is Mr Karch's philosophical comment.

It is possible that some things can be paid for through the schools capital budget, or perhaps done by Mr Karch's department on an operating expense basis, Mrs. Fox says. She adds that something like a "Booster Club" might raise funds for other projects.

The board also realizes it may be cheaper to do something now-like extend the stage—rather than wait, and find that it costs even more because the contractor isn't around with special equipment—and inflation is still biting away

Actually, Rule's bid was not, technically, the lowest. Another contractor came in with $2,100,000. But Rule's "alternate" prices were lower

Lax Enforcement of Existing Borough Dog Law Results in Plans for Enactment of a Stricter One

A purebred, blue-ribbon dog discussion can take more time than designing a parking garage Borough Council, at Monday's agenda session, gritted its teeth, bit my yard and get my dog?" the bone and began worrying over ways to perfect the dog ordinance.

After about an hour, everybody agreed that attorney Gordon Griffin should block out two changes in the Dogs would have to be "under control" at all times in school yards (or, presumably, in schools themselves, like Mary's little lamb), and on private property

 Owners of females in heat would be given a reasonable amount of time to get the dog into a kennel, if police found her a "nuisance" Non-compliance would bring a summons.

But it's not that easy. The Borough already has an ordinance banning dogs from parks—how to reconcile allowing them "under control?"

At first, it seemed like a good idea to give owners of females a summons only But Health Commission head Louise Bessire was tirm; she wanted the females removed, if they were causing trouble.

"A summons to the owner doesn't keep the male dogs away," she said sternly

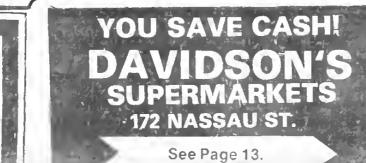

"Do police have a right to go into demanded Council member Richard

They can go onto your premises if they're in "hot pursuit," Mr. Griffin replied. They probably can't. otherwise, without a warrant Or your permission to take the dog

At present, the Borough requires that owners keep dogs restrained 24 hours a day, (In the Township dogs may roam between 7 p.m. and 7 a m., and many of them do-righ over the line into the Borough to visi one of those females everyone was talking about.)

It is common knowledge that Borough enforcement is almost a farce. Not from negligence, but simply from lack of staff and money The Borough buys time from the Township's dog-control officer, bu Borough Administrator Robert F Mooney says the officer can spend only six or seven hours a week it the Borough and catches few dogs

Nobody proposed a change from the 24-hour control It may not b enforced very well, but it is deterrent, Council decided off prevented possible further

The driver, Rosemary W. Williamson, 36, of Levittown, Pa., was charged by Sgt. Rohert Anderson with careless driving. She was taken to Princeton Medical Center for treatment of back pains and released.

Ms. Williamson told Sgt. Anderson that she had just let two boys out of the car and "thought I was hit in the back, and that's all I remember. I just couldn't stop the car."

Her car started forward and struck the rear of a car operated by Joel Cooper, 34, 41 Robert Road, pushing it ahead ahout 25 feet. It then veered to car crossed the sidewalk, forcing on several pedestrians to flee.

Erratic Joorney, It struck the Princeton University wall bordering Nassau Street after traveling some 50 feet and then veered left. It continued another 60 feet before striking the left fender of a car stopped at the foot of Washington Road, driven by Rose M. Lisa Bess of 164 John Street, Williams, 19, of Bridgewater.

Then the Williamson car pulled to the left and headed toward Vandeventer Avenue, passing Ptl. Lenhardt, who was working the traffic signal.

Battlefield Preservation Society Believes RealEstateReal Byrne May Be Planning Helistop in the Area

Is Governor Brendan T. Byrne building himself a helistop on Princeton Battlefield?

The possibility that he may be doing so and construction equipment was certainly there on Tuesday - has sent members of the Battlefield Area Preservation Society running for their muskets.

"This is a distinct violation of the purpose of the Park," declared Society chairman William Starr this week. "Under state law, it is a 'passive' recreation area memorial park to men who died there."

Rumors of a gubernatorial helistop traveling the state grapevines, had reached Mr. Starr. The Society promptly wrote a spirited letter of protest and dispatched it, post haste, to Trenton some three weeks ago. No reply

So far as one can tell, the construction equipment seems about to start work on a road going in at right angles from Mercer Road along the trees that separate the Battlefield from the Institute for Advanced Study. It is not known where the helipad known where Governor Byrne would land in Trenton.

For several years, the governor has traveled between Princeton and Trenton by helicopter, using a landing place at the foot of Springdale Road just off Springdale Golf Course. Week-end golfers have long been accustomed to his arrivals and departures.

Historically, Princeton has not taken kindly to helicopters. In June, 1977, J. Seward Johnson decided he wanted his own helistop at his estate, "Jasna Polana," on the Lawrenceville Road in Princeton

The Township has an ordinance pro-hibiting helicopter installations, but the courts have said the state may override (perhaps in a helicopter) such local laws.

In any case, neighborhood opposition was firm and vocal, and Mr. Johnson withdrew. Incidentally, a "helistop," like the one Mr. Johnson wanted, is not a "heliport," Nobody yet knows what the Governor has in mind. but a "helistop" is temporary, and is just a place where helicopters can land, with no would be - if, indeed, it is planned. Nor is it facilities except a wind indicator.

Puzzled about November Referendum on Consolidation Study? Citizens Group Backing It Provides a Number of Guidelines have a citizens commission to Township isn't desirable. study the feasibility of consolidation?'

Borough and Township members of the citizens group supporting such a study made that point firmly at a Monday press conference.

"When you you vote November, you won't be voting on whether Borough or Township should consolidate," explained Township representative Stanley C. Smoyer, "you'll be voting on whether a study commission should be formed."

Smoyer and his Borough counterpart on the citizens group, Ingrid Reed, pointed out also that the one, 'Are you already committed to consolidation, or are chosen facts and weigh the evidence?" We wanted people whose Township, only five are committment was to the study running, so there is no contest.

Law Has Changed, "In the Township,'' Mr. Smoyer added, "the five candidates are people who are very sophisticated about government. Perhaps in the past, they may have wanted consolidation, but they all feel that this time, a study should be made. When consolidation was defeated in 1953 — under a different state law, by the way - there was no in-depth study as to whether consolidation was feasible or not."

The two representatives explained that if the commission decides consolidation is wise, it must then recommend the form of government the new "Princeton" would have. It might be mayorcouncil, city manager or any of the many alternatives provided under New Jersey's 1950 Faulkner Act.

Duties of the commission are outlined in a new state law approved in March of this year Besides recommending a form of government, for example, the commission must work out ways to adjust the indebtedness of the two municipalities to make sure the debt service taxation is

The law requires completion of the commission's job in nine months - next August Throughout that period of time, the commission must hold public meetings and provide for the widest possible public discussion.

"We hope the public gives the commission some ideas on the form of government it would like," Mr. Smoyer commented.

Public Opinion Sought. Next year, if actual consolidation is on the ballot, approval or rejection will be linked to the form of government; that is, a voter might approve of con-

But this November, the public is asked only to decide "When we were searching whether the study commission out candidates, we asked each should be formed. Five ''commissioners'' each you willing to examine the municipality. In the Borough, six are running; in the

> Both Mrs. Reed and Mr. Smoyer emphasized their belief that "now is a propitious time" to make a consolidation study.

> The new law passed this spring provides a much more democratic procedure than the earlier law, they said. Voters have two chances to vote on the subject: this fall "should we appoint a study commission?" and next fall 'should we consolidate,' assuming the commission makes that recommendation.

> In between, there will be many public hearings and invitations for public com-

Another reason the time is right, the citizens group says, is that both Borough and Township are planning reevaluation of all properties under the same assessment standards. If consolidation should indeed be approved, there would be no need to adjust assessments between municipalities. And if approved, consolidation would become effective on January 1, 1981 - at the end of the live-year phasein of the change from financing the schools on a per-pupi hasis, to sharing costs on a rateables basis

"A lot has changed in Princeton in 25 years," Mrs. Reed observed, commenting on the 1953 defeat of merger, "the financial situation, people's attitudes. We think that thoughtful people will agree that this kind of study makes sense.'

Edgerstoune Traffic Light

A traffic signal for the intersection of Edgerstoune Road with Stockton Street has been approved by the state, according to information received by Princeton Township.

The Township has been trying for almost five years to obtain approval for the signal. When the Mercer Road bridge was closed, the request was renewed, and this time state traffic counters said the light was justified.

HODAK RESIGNS

As Township Engineer, Joseph Hodak has resigned as The proposed "landmarks" Township engineer, effective December 8. His resignation, offered without explanation, was accepted by Committee at last Wednesday's meeting by a 4-0 vote. William Cherry abstained without comment,

Later, he explained that he did not cast an affirmative vote because he was reluctant to see Mr. Hodak leave, and did not want to vote "no" because the resolution contained an expression of appreciation for Mr. Hodak's long service.

The engineer has been recovering from a back operation. He has not attended Committee meetings for some time and has been an infrequent attender at Planning Board meetings.

"The total demand was more than his physique could stand," Mr. Cherry observed, "but I don't think it's quite consistent with affirmative action policies not to have offered him a less-demanding job. His capabilities can still be of use to the Township and I would be hopeful that he might be worked in when we hire a new engineer "

David Blair, Committee member who holds the Public Works portfolio, declined to Mr. Hedak's discuss resignation, but said, "We are blessed, in the Township, with an excellent staff.'

Agenda: Bike Paths

Climb on your bicyclebuilt-for-two (making sure you have legal and proper lights for night biking) and head for Township Hall this Wednesday, planning to arrive at 8 p.m.

It's "Bike Night," and the regular Township Committee meeting will be entirely devoted to bikepaths. This includes a discussion with citizens' Sidewalk and Bikeway Advisory Committee of what paths should be built next, and future, capital budget planning. Susan Hillier, incidentally, has announced her resignation from that committee.

Data on bike lanes for Mercer Road have not yet been received, according to Administrator Joseph R. Nini. The Township has written to communities that have such lanes, asking for advice.

years and on the engineering staff since 1960. Under Township ordinance, the municipal engineer can be hired for any term from one to three years. Mr. Hodak was serving a two-year term which expires this December 31.

"LANDMARKS" - OUT To Withdraw Ordinance. ordinance, the future of the Princeton Youth Center and the Central Business District study were among items on Borough Council's agenda session Monday and some will be carried over to Council's regular meeting this Thursday at 8 in Borough Hall.

The landmarks ordinance will be withdrawn, at the request of the Historic Sites Committee, and a major revision presented next year.

Council expects to pass on Thursday the ordinance allowing business firms to use distant parking lots and shuttles to meet parking requirements under the zoning ordinance. The ordinance setting up a "utility" to run a parking garage will be held until December.

By next week, Council and Planning Board representatives hope to name the urban planner who will be hired to comment on overall CBD plans, Mayor Robert W. Cawley said. Dates for public meetings on the CBD may be announced in two weeks.

"Out of sight, out of mind for the past several years," is the way one Council member characterized the Princeton Youth Center — now known as the Paul Robeson Center, The Center has had problems with directors, and according to Council member William Selden, is one of the few local agencies to receive almost all its money from the United Fund.

> The zoning proposal is included in the final draft of the township's new master planunveiled last week at a public meeting in Hopewell Central High School. The 97-page plan recommends against allowing any large regional shopping malls in Hopewell and calls for protecting the township's natural environment. Hopewell Township has historically been wary of large scale commercial and residential development and voted last year not to join the Brook Regional Stony. Sewerage Authority for those very reasons.

The proposed shapping center would have about 35 stores taking up a total of 80,000 square feet. The plan is for an open air court instead of an enclosed mall. The project is expected to cost about $8.

Other Plans Rejected, The Rouse Co, one of the higgest shopping center developers in the country, has year by year shrunk the size of the shopping centers it has proposed at Pennington Circle because of residents' objections. The first proposal called for 1.3 million square feet of retail space on 190 acres-larger than Quaker Bridge Mall

206 Widening Itl-Advised To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a copy of an open letter sent to the Commissioner of New Jersey's Department of Transportation.

This letter is written in response to the Department of Transportation's proposed widening of Route 206 through Princeton Township and Borough. Any such plans regarding Route 206 affect us both personally and as community members since ported by the Catholic Church. the road passes directly in front of our residence as well as through a significant portion of our community,

We argue srongly against any alteration of the route within Princeton, with the exception of resurfacing and drainage improvements. We further argue against the widening of Route 206 North of Princeton Township until the main issues regarding regional traffic flow are resolved This refers primarily to decisions on the construction of I-95 in this area Our reasons are the following:

· A widening of the roadway within Princeton would adversely affect the quality of life of all homeowners whose properties are contiguous to Runte 106 An appreciable traction of those homes stand close to the present roadway. Noise and pollution buffers in the form of earth mounds, trees, vegetation and fences 10 Symes Court, have been located over the years to reduce the unpleasant effects of the roadway. Widening the road would eliminate many of these buffers which have helped to make residence on this roadway tolerable.

 Widening of the roadway will increase both traffic dentsity and speed. Such inresult in increased danger to life and property

· In principle, roads with high speed and dense traffic, such as Route 206 through Princeton, impose both psychological and physical barriers within communities. The increasing priority given to the quality of community life in America runs counter to the imposition of such barriers in the interest of traffic flow. The answer has been, of course, to direct traffic around, and not through, communities. A widening of Route 206 through Princeton would be representative of nothing less than a regressive transportation policy regard to Route 206 cannot he path-we chose the one "admade in isolation of other decisions regarding traffic flow through central New Jersey. Four-lane highways without sufficient connections have received none. to other major arteries create bottlenecks and congestion If 291 Elm Road Route 206 were made fourlane to Princeton Township, with no direct outlet for traffic to another major artery, the results for Princeton would be disasterous

Merely widening Route 206 in Princeton serves no purpose other than to provide a construction not-needed group of transportation of many people this would not project for an over-zealous planaers Clearly a host of mare replanning issues needs to a readyed rather than to allow piecemeal road construction to take the place of a coherent and ecologically sound road net in central New

Bike Path's Route Varies. To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have written a letter to Mayor Cawley, the Borough Council and Mr. Olexa, the Borough engineer. Parts of this letter follow:

"As you know, I was not in favor of the Elm Road bike creased rates necessarily path, but as it began to progress, I realized it would be much safer for walkers, and perhaps it wasn't so bad. However, in the interest of fairness, why does the path go right against the curb on the property of all of my neighbors (and I am glad of this for their sakes), and right through our front yard?

> It was certainly not done to save a large elm tree that is dying. I would appreciate it if each one of you would come down and see how differently our frontage was treated from that of our neighbors. There is no reason that the bike path could not have been kept close to the curb, as it was done all down Elm Road

• Finally, decisions made in a choice of two routes for the jacent to the curh." Why then was the alternative used? I asked for an acknowledgment of some kind to this letter, but

Democrats For Princeton Township Committee

Re-Elect

Elect

They know how government should work

David Long received his B.A. in Economics from Wesleyan University, and a Master of Public Policy from the University of California at Berkeley. He has worked for the Institute for the Future and for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, where he evaluated the costs of governmentfinanced programs

In 1975 he moved to Princeton, and joined the staff of Mathematica Policy Research as a Research Associate. At Mathematica, he has participated in evaluations of Federal employment, housing and job-training programs. Most recently he directed a cost-benefit evaluation of the Job Corps program, part of a major study for the Department of

His interest in the Township of Princeton and its future, and in making government work better, has led to his involvement in Township government. His training and experience in economics and public policy will serve him well on Committee. He is the new, fresh voice that the Township needs

DAVID LONG

David Blair has been a member of the Princeton Township Committee since November 1976. His assignments on Committee have included Engineering and Public Works, Joint Sewer Operating Committee, Civil Rights and the Environment Commission

He is presently engaged in anti-polution and energy conversion research at Exxon Research and Engineering Company, and is also Adjunct Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering at Columbia University

He received his B.S. from Oregon State University, and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Columbia. As an engineer, he has brought valuable knowledge and experience to public works projects, a major part of Committee's agenda. As an avid outdoorsman and environmentalist, he understands the issues relating to the use of open space – knowledge that has been invaluable to the planning and policy-making work of Committee. His integrity, dedication and talent have contributed immeasurably to Princeton Township

But part - time sales people aren't regarded as real professionals by the real pros, coolly, "This isn't a business for dilettantes."

And yet, it is a flexible business, for all its inexorable week-end and night work. A mother who's a sales associate can attend a school play, watch her child in a ball game, answer a summons from the school nurse. A manin the business doesn't have to commute. Curiously — to an outsider — people in this tense and competitive business say it's "fun" and that's the word they use.

"We have fun and we help each other," one broker explains. "We get so excited about our sales and our listings, and about giving each other ideas. We're all working for the success of the office itself, working as a team. People who don't pick up that team spirit - usually leave."

"People in Princeton today," this broker continues, demand a high degree of professionalism. They don't just turn to a friend who happnes to have a license. It's a very large transaction, buying or selling a house. You wouldn't ask a friend to take out your appendix, after all. That's why the education part and the home - work part are so important."

Stamina is vital. So is a willingness to change your life style. So is a willingness on the part of your family that you change your life - style. It's hard work, but maybe you'll be one of the twenty percent who stick with it

III NEW JERSEY SPORTS AND EXPOSITION AUTHORITY REFUNDING BOND GUARANTY ACT VES Should the "New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority Refunding Bond Guaranty Act" which authorizes the State to guaranty not exceeding $317,000,000.00 principal amount of bonds of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority to be issued to refinance bonds of the authority issued for the sports complex in the NO Hackensack meadowlands; providing the ways and means to perform and discharge such goaranty of the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds so guaranteed, be approved? INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT Approval of this act would authorize the State to guaranty up to $317,000,000.00 in bonds of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority to refinance the ioitial sports complex project in the Hackensack meadowlands. Such a refinancing would result in substantial interest cost savings, increasing surplus earnings which the authority transfers annually to the State Treasury PUBLIC QUESTION NO., IV GREEN ACRES OPPORTUNITIES ROND ISSUE Shall the act entitled "An act authorizing the creation of a debt of the State of New Jersey by issuance of bonds of the State in the sum YES of $200 million to provide money for public acquisition and development of lands for recreation and conservation purposes to meet the future needs of the expanding population; to enable the State to acquire and develop lands for recreation and conservation purposes and to provide for State grants to assist municipalities and counties and other units of local government to acquire and develop lands for recreation and conservation purposes, providing the ways and means to pay the interest of said debt and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof, and providing for the submission of

INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT

This act, if approved by referendum, would authorize the State of New Jersey to issue $200 million in general obligation bonds to be used for acquiring and developing land for recreation and conservation purposes. Both the State government and local governmental units would acquire and develop such land with the State providing up to 50 percent of the acquisition cost incurred by local

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. V INSTITUTIONAL CONSTRUCTION BOND ISSUE

Should the "Institutional Construction Bond Act of 1978" which authorizes the State to issue bonds in the amount of $100,000,000.000 for construction and improvement of facilities serving the mentally retarded and mentally ill; for construction of correctional institutions including Trenton State Prison; and for the acquisition and construction of facilities, including facilities to serve blind and handicapped persons and a forensic laboratory for the State Medical Examiner; and to provide means to pay the principal and interest on these bonds, be approved?

INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT

Approval of this act will authorize sale of $100,000,000.00 in bonds to be used (1) to provide facilities for the mentally retarded and mentally ill which will improve the quality of care and allow the State to receive partial Federal reimbursement for such services; (2) for construction and improvement of correctional facilities to provide safe and humane conditions, (3) to offer library services to the hlind and handicapped; and (4) to provide for a forensic laboratory for the State Medical Examiner

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. VI

EMERGENCY FLOOD CONTROL BOND ISSUE Should the "Emergency Flood Control Bond Act of 1978" which authorizes the State to issue bonds in the amount of $25,000,000.00 for the purposes of acquiring, developing, constructing, and maintaining flood control facilities and for the development of comprehensive flood control master plans, providing the ways and means to pay the interest of such debt and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof, be approved?

INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT

Approval of this act would authorize the sale of $25,000,000.00 in State boods. Of this amount $22,000,000.00 would be used to provide money to municipalities and counties for up to 50 percent of cost of acquiring, developing, constructing and maintaining flood control facilities. The remaining $3,000,000.00 would be used to develop and maiotain comprehensive master plans, both Statewide and regionally. The State would be authorized to provide grants to counties and other regional agencies for up to 50 percent of the cost of any regional flood control master plan.

GET AWAY FROM IT ALL: COME TO A COLONIAL RETREAT JUST 22 MINUTES FROM PRINCETON

Picture yourself living in the real thing: a historic colonial village all your own backing up to a wonderful wide mill stream. The sense of belonging right there, of being surrounded by a quieter and more leisurely time, of authentic beamed ceilings, hand craftsmanship and tradition, wide floor hoards, and wonderful warming old fireplaces as good for you now as they were back when. Each of these houses has been lovingly restored and updated with all the modern conveniences.

SOUTHWORTH, the main residence, dates from 1740, and features a beamed living room with built-in corner cupboard, a formal dining room with big old fireplace, a convenient kitchen, and a den overlooking the stream. Upstairs are three comfortable bedrooms and a studio room.

SOUTHWORTH COTTAGE, circa 1790, has a large living room, a dining room, and an eat-in kitchen, as well as two comfortable bedrooms and a full bath.

SOUTHWORTH QUARTERS, circa 1840 has a foyer, living room, den, and kitchen with dining area. Upstairs are two ample bedrooms, a hath and lots of storage areas. Situated on more than an acre overlooking a lovely old stream, Southworth is convenient to an easy commute to Princeton or for that matter to New York or Philadelphia via the Turnpike or Penn Central. The inground swimming pool (32) concrete) is just one of the many extras you must come see. As a working colonial investment, the above is still offered as one property, but subdivision is possible Realistically priced at $139,900

WHAT IT IS: Brookmead is, first and foremost, a development planned and produced in good taste. It is composed of 18 custom built homes on twentyeight acres of land that has captured the essence of country living.

WHERE IT IS: Brookmead is located in Montgomery Township, 10 minutes from the center of Princeton. Owners of Brookmead homes will find convenience in both shopping facilities and transportation for commuters. Quality education can be found in nearby schools, both public and private.

THE HOMES: Brookmead homes are built by one of the area's outstanding craftsmen, William Bucci Builders, and come in various shapes and sizes to fit sundry tastes. All homes have large rooms, full basements, central air conditioning, family room with fireplace - all the proper features needed to satisfy demands for comfort and superior construction. Each home comes with a ten year Homeowner's Warranty.

THE LOTS: Brookmead lots range from approximately 1.1 to 1.8 acres in size. The underground utilities enhance the natural setting of the trees and brook of Broadmead.

FOR YOU: To inspect Brookmead, there are three houses open to the public. Prices start at $110,000.00 Due to the unexpected popularity of these homes, we suggest you visit while there is a choice of lots.

DIRECTIONS:

North from Princeton on #206. Turn right on Platz Road, two miles past Montgomery Shopping Center.

South from Belle Mead on #200, pass Harlingen Church on right. Platz Road, Brookmead is immediately past Bridgepoint Rd. on the left.

Russian Playwright's Comedy Opens McCarter's New Season; It Provides "An Extremely Amusing, Interesting Evening"

With a spectacularly handsome production of Ivan Turgenev's "A Month in the Country," starring Tammy Grimes, the McCarter Theatre Company last Friday opened its current season. If the parts of this play are greater than its sum, those parts are so great that most theatergoers should enjoy this Chekhov-like Russian classic written 40 years before

Its locale is the palatial home of a Russian landowner in the early 1840s, and the McCarter version leaves no dooht that the landowner is loaded. First we see a stunning, marhle-columned, richly fornished drawing room; and then turntable-magic gives us the even lovelier exterior, with more columns, a garden, a bit of sculpture, a suggestion of woods and lake

This reviewer has mixed, mainly negative, feelings about lavish settings, but we must admit this one - by Michael H. Yeargan and Lawrence King — is a breathtaker, even to its morals. And the way Director Michael Kahn has his handsome actors moving before background, in impressive costumes by Jane Greenwood, is a continuing delight to the eye, every moment a well composed painting.

translated by ear and mind hterate, often detail, was wanting in comwitty, sometimes broadly funny Turgeney spent much of his life in France, and his view of the decadent rich is more worldly, more Mahere like, given to broader caricature, than Chekhov's

McCarter Review

If all this sounds a bit French farcical, some of the best parts are.

Cast and Direction Strong, All of the actors are so good, so well cast, so skillfully directed, one can hardly single out any for special comment - though a word, later, about Miss Grimes.

Mr. Kahn has wisely split the play into two acts, of which the first is slow for a modern audience. But with Act 2 the play bursts into life. It zips and bubbles along in a series of mainly two-character scenes, some dramatic but most hysterically funny, each so brilliantly written and performed that it drew applause from the packed opening night audience.

Unfortunately, these marvelous vaudeville-like sketches, though related, do not build to an exciting climax, because the play is about Natalya's love life; and Natalya, alas, is simply not very interesting.

Beautiful, yes; beautifully dressed; frequently witty. But and the blame is largely Turgenev's she never reveals enough depth or integrity of feeling to make one care how her love life turns

She is not only bored but boring: petulant, centered, lazy, rude, unkind. One sees how a star and a director would be drawn by the theatricality of this role, but Natalya lacks qualities that would make her, and her play, dramatically moving. And the three men in her life are too weak to shed strength on her. The only male present with enough electricity to ignite her is the doctor, and him she ignores

Miss Grimes might have brought more warmth to her role, but her stylized performance accentuates its emotional superficiality. In her and Turgenev's defense, he was not pleased with this manic-depressive work; and Chekhov disliked it, though he must have been influenced by

Rayond Chandler in "The Long Goodbye" has someone describe love among the very rich: "It's no real fun (because) they never want anything very hard except maybe somebody else's wife and that's a pretty pale desire compared with the way a plumber's wife wants new curtains for the living room."

He was talking of an earlier generation of plumbers, but paleness of desire is what afflicts "A Month in the Country." Still, on balance, an extremely amusing, interesting evening.

At Princeton Ballet. The Princeton Ballet has taken a major step toward a long-held goal of achieving professional status. For the first time, it is placing eight area dancers under year-long professional contracts.

Funding for the development of a professional company was made available through the Mercer County of Manpower Administration under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, which stipulates that personnel hired under the grant be residents who have been long unemployed In addition to providing jobs, the grant is seen as benefiting the general public in that free performances and school touring will be provided

Mrs. Audree Estey, founder and director of the Princeton Ballet, has often said that New Jersey has been losing its young dancers to New York and Philadelphia because of lack of employment in the state. She said that the board of trustees of the Princeton Ballet Society, which maintains the company, is Introducing the kid's room that just might go to Harvard.

At Workbench, our child psychology is simple, as the child changes so should the furniture Which is why we imported this handsome white lacquer group from Finland. When your baby is ready, the crib converts to a desk. And both cabinets have tops that can be recessed to function as a changing table, put flush or removed to let you stack pieces. What's more, each piece is over-sized. A full 22 inches deep So even if you don't have little ones, these big units are perfect in living rooms, dining areas, anywhere you want extra storage Our exclusive new kid's stuff goes from sweet dreams at 6 months to serious study at 17. But, of course, it won't get into Harvard unless your child does.

SERIES PLANNED
To Dedicate Organ. "A season of festivity" is the title of the 1978-79 Trinity-All Saints' Concert Series. The points for the celebrations are the two new Casavant tracker organs in Trinity Church.

One of the organs is a 42-stop gallery instrument built in the French Classic tradition; the other is a 4-stop moveable continue organ which will serve as a chancel instrument for Trinity.

The dedicatory events for the new organs will feature four organ concerts and a workshop on French organ music to be conducted by internationally acclaimed organist Andre Isoir. The first concert will be given on Monday, October 23 at 8:30 by James Litton, organist and director of music at Trinity and director of music at Princeton Theological Seminary. Admission is free.

Andre Isoir, organist at St. Germain des Pres, Paris, will give the second dedicatory concert at Trinity on Thursday, November 2 at 8:30. The workshop on French organ music will be held in two sessions on Friday, November 3 from 4-6 and 8-10. Mr. Isoir's concert will be free of charge, but there is a registration fee for the workshop of $5 for one session or $8 for both.

The workshop is open to organists, students, and all interested in learning more about French organ literature. For further information contact Trinity Church, 33 Mercer St.

Joan Lippincott, chairman of the Organ Department at Westminster Choir College, will give an organ concert Tuesday, march 27, at 8:30 at Trinity. The final dedicatory concert for the new organs will be given by Harold Pysher, organist and choirof the human condition. Figurative works include an interpretation of Adam and Eve, family trees and other traditional human connections.

They are presented in a dream-like, organically distorted manner that appears to focus on man's isolation. Kirchhoff's technique supports his image adequately but, in this case, the content is not often easy to deal with.

Of the four, Ave Maria is notable for the technical achievement that is apparent in her work. The subject matter is traditional, often conventional, but is executed with the kind of technical expertise that makes even the most mundane view worth considering

At Gallery 100. Figurative paintings and lithographs by Dolores Puthod include a series illustrating La Scala Opera as well as many other complex figurative works and some still life. Puthod, an artist of wide reputation in her native Italy, creates life-sized oils in a painterly fashion

Intensely rendered figures are portrayed in deep toned, naturalistic color using vigorous brushwork and a painterly approach. An interior scene in which form and technique dominate content demonstrates the artist's skill with color and space. Handcolored lithographs deal mainly with La Scala scenes, including dancers, costume portrayals and representations of other downstage

Kemble has taken the form of the American flag and used its structure as the basis for an amusing series of collages that retain the essence of flag, although they are composed of all manner of unlikely materials Elements used include lace, (ypography, a potholder and other scraps, bits and pieces that are all combined with love and skill-

Porcelains by Ann Tsubota include formal bowls and vases as well as innovative forms that are essentially floral in their structure. A ceramic fountain by Martha Wright and hand-blown glass by Art Reed and Andrea Becker are also included

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions

COMMUNITY PARK'S PTO worked hard at improving children's nutrition last year with a "Food - of the - month" program which stressed good - tasting, good - for - you foods in their peak production seasons. This emphasis on better eating now continues with an addition to the school's bulletin for parents entitled "Lunch Box Suggestions"

Included in the list of ideas for more appealing, different, and nourishing bag lunches are variety in bread types, roll - ups of meat or cheese teamed with fruit and-or vegetables, salad spreads as dips or with crackers, egg suggestions, sandwich fillers utilizing cream or cottage cheese bases, and even some uses for left - overs. Along with the hints is a caution about easily spoiled items, the insulated container that keeps foods chilled in Indian Summer keeps the soups and stews hot in winter weather Ann McGoldrick, PTO President, would welcome any additional ideas and recipes to share with CP and Princeton parents whose children may carry lunches to school.

SAFETY FOR BOTH bikers and pedestrians of elementary school age was the theme of a Littlebrook School assembly last week. Police met with the students for a film, discussion, and question session to make everyone more safety conscious at all times

SIXTH GRADERS AT John Witherspoon Middle School will soon be sesquapedalians (given to using long words), thanks to the efforts of the school's PTO. Two hundred thirty Merriam - Webster pocket dictionaries have been ordered so that each entering student will have his own copy - to have, to hold, to keep, and to use. Approval of this gitt was given at the last Board of Education meeting

THE PRINCETON REGIONAL Scholarship Foundation has the second printing of their cookbook, "A Recipe Sampler" out of the oven and on sale at $6.00 per copy. Books may be ordered from Rita Ludlum (921-6181), but hurry, for the first printing of 1000 went like hot - cakes! The book contains favorite recipes from the school and community and is a perfect gift for graduates and friends.

TWO IMPORTANT Board of Education planning meetings are scheduled for Tuesday evenings in October at Valley Road School The first, on the seventeenth, will delve into the much publicized PHS report. For those interested, copies of the Superintendent's study - 1978 are available for on site perusal at the Public Library, Valley Road offices, and the PHS office The PHS - PTO has several copies which may be borrowed through Mrs. Lieske Wright (921-7870) The report itself, with recommendations, is a fifty page document; the accompanying tabulations of staff, student, parent questionnaire replies is double that size. The October 24 meeting will concentrate on changes in Board of Education policies Discussion will center on student fees, fund - raising, field trips, grants, and gifts. The floor will be open for community questions and SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS will get a boost from the Dollhouse Exhibit and Sale chaired by Cathy Johnson of the Lioness International Club of Princeton. Saturday, October 28 is the day, 10 to 4 arethe hours, and Community Park School is the place to browse and buy houses, dolls, and furniture from many crafts and collectors. The house on display at Nassau Street's Hobby Shop is one of a pair of doll residences that will be raffled at 3:30 pm just before the exhibit closes. Admission charges for adults, $1.50, and children, $50, will help provide grants to deserving area high school students on their way to higher education.

14 Nassau St. Tel 921-6880 Question Confronting Tigers in Football with Third of Season Gone: Is There Any Team on Their Schedule They Can Beat?

WHY THE TIGERS CAN'T RUN: Cris Crissy, Princeton sophomore tailback, sees no opening and at least three Brown tacklers as he nears line of scrimmage in this play Saturday. In three games to date, Princeton has averaged 44 yards on the (Ed Moshey photo) ground.

A third of the way into the trailing by 13 in a horry and 1978 season, Princeton football playing away from home is in deep trouble. The battered Tigers, who are failing away from home Saturday pieces together, and why in when they face Colombia in New York, in place of the 2-2 mark that seemed within reach when the season opened, they are quite likely to be still searching for their first victory

Instead of playing on even terms with a Brown team that arrived in Palmer Stadium less than three periods, yielded 27 more points, so that extreme this opponent

there were bright moments in its immediate future. Defensive pressure of the type applied by a take - charge team had brought the first touchdown, defensive end Bob Piselli breaking through the visitors' line to tip a pass into the air and middle guard Pete Fanke coasting with it 37 yards into the end zone

When Brown yielded possession shortly thereafter, the Orange and Black gave its best offensive show of the fall as it drove 80 yards in t1 plays, fullback Gary Larson capping a fine series of his own by going over from a yard out. Chris Howe converted this time after having missed earlier There was Princeton, doing the job defensively, moving moving the ball with authority, and there was Brown, 0-2 on the season,

OUTLOOK IS BLEAK

For PDS Football Team. Halfway into the season, the outlook is rather bleak for the Princeton Day football team. Winner of only one of its four games, the Panthers do not figure to improve much on that record the rest of the way.

Of the four remaining contests, only Morristown Beard and Wardlaw appear beatable, based on the Blue and White's performances to date. That would rule out a finish at the .500 mark this

LARRY ELEVEN WINS, 21-7

Over Germantown. Lawrenceville School defeated Germantown, 21-7, in football last week as Jim Furey once again led the Lawrenceville attack with 190 yards rushing in 19 carries Lawrenceville went right to work. It took the opening kickoff and marched 63 yards in 14 plays, Furey going over from the two. The Lawring over from the two. The Larries then mounted another ball-control drive in the second quarter, driving 65 yards in 11 plays before Jay Budd scooted in from 15 yards out.

After Germantown had capitalized on a Lawrenceville fumble on the Germantown seven for its only score, Furey put the game away early in the fourth period, turning the right corner and receiving several key blocks. He went all the way for an 83-yard touchdown.

Lawrenceville's defense came up with several big plays to protect its lead: An interception by John Bat-taglino and quarterback sacks by Gudjon Olaffson and Chris
